Thiagi's Interactive Training Strategies Workshop

The best way to improve your training is to encourage participants to interact with each other, with the content, and with you. Learn the secrets of effective interactive training that is faster, cheaper, and better.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THIS WORKSHOP?

Trainers and Facilitators who want to improve participation among adult learners

Workshop Leaders who need to add some interaction and fun to old material

Instructional Designers who want to enhance their training packages

Speakers who want to expand their added value statements to their customers

FACILITATORS - Sandra and Laurie are corporate trainers working successfully with a varied portfolio including, leadership, customer service, team building and conflict resolution - working with organizations such as White Oaks Conference Resort & Spa, General Motors, Big Brothers & Big Sisters, Metroland Media, Ministry of Transportation, John Howard Society, Niagara Region.... to name a few.

You will begin by rapidly exploring different training strategies such as: Structured sharing, Framgames, Interactive lectures, Debriefs, Textra games, Simulation games, Inprov, Jolts, and all sorts of other tips and techniques that Sandra and Laurie have learned over the years that will help you engage your audience!

WHAT MAKES THIS TRAINING DIFFERENT?

Besides the two dynamic young beautiful trainers ☺... On day one you will immediately begin to learn the new skills, techniques and games through experience. Day two you will push your performance to the next level through application. We know that unless participants apply learning immediately they forget approximately 80% of what they learned within 48 hours. During day two you will master learning, adding new techniques to your current programs. You will be required to design and include at least one new strategy/technique/game into their current or future presentation. Added value: Your facilitators will provide one on one feedback and coaching on lesson plans during the session making this a truly customized and practical session.

DATE: December 8 & 9 2011

REGISTRATION FEE: $499 + HST

REGISTRATION FEE INCLUDES:

Breakfast, Lunch, Refreshments. All participants will receive a copy of Thiagi's book "Interactive Strategies for Improving Performance". Added value: Your facilitators will provide one on one feedback and coaching on lesson plans during the session making this a truly customized and practical session.
